reported by ICMR, the IDVC project was approved in 1985 by the then Prime Minister of India and was sanctioned for continuation till the end of the VIII Plan, i.e. March 1997. Beyond this date, the Project has been continuing on a year to year basis after getting appropriate approvals upto 1999-2000. The funds allocated to the project is reported to have been fruitfully utilised by ICMR.

The recommendations of the Rudrappa Committee, with regard to the permanency or otherwise of the mega projects being run by ICMR, including Integrated Disease Vector Control Project were placed before the Scientific Advisory Board in its recent meeting held in April, 2000, whose recommendation, when received, will be taken into account to decide the issue.
